

WORD EXPERT

Word Expert is a unique freelance platform, which will change your ordinary glance at translation. After a deep research and monitoring of numerous freelance platforms, we considered all the details and nuances before creating our own universal platform.

To use another platforms or markets it's necessary to pay a member fee to activate an account or choose a service package for a limited period. Frequently, such package services already include some agent fees, commissions or tolls, and users may even be not informed about them.

One of the main features of Word Expert is the lack of any commission fees. Projects and orders will be published for free.

Currently, payments in cryptocurrencies are becoming more popular, but not everyone keeps up with the times and receives payments via bank/credit cards or any other payment services (PayPal, Payoneer). Moreover, every platform places emphasis on the only payment options, forgetting about others. In rare cases, it's allowed to pay by check, but only in the USA.

Normally, freelance platforms offer translation services with a standard bundle of languages. For example, translation of each word and the whole text from the language, which is in a relative language group with other languages, will cost less. However, if the targeted language, necessary for translation, is not widely used on the Internet, then looking for a proper translator will be quite a difficult and long-term process. And it's just the tip of the iceberg, as the main problem will occur after the completed work check.

Word Expert platform will combine all freelance translators from all the world parts and will build a proper interaction between clients and freelancers. After an order is completed, a client will be offered to check the translated material by a native speaker. Such an approach will help to avoid any difficulties while conveying the main idea of a text. As soon as the client verifies the quality of completed work, he just needs to pay for it.

To control account balance and its transactions, freelance platforms integrate different payment systems with a client’s personal account. After registration a client is offered to attach a debit or a credit card for further payment for services. If a payment service is not provided with any check during payment completion, then in case of the account stealing it will be a very big problem both for client and freelancer.

As for made payments, we may face some other difficulties. For instance, if a client paid for freelancer’s work and the funds were successfully deducted, but the freelancer hadn’t confirmed the transaction within a few days and is waiting for a new payment, then the client needs to make an investigation and ask for a platform support.

During Word Expert creation our team was able to consider this difficult issue as well. Blockchain technology (chain of blocks) will provide safety and security of payments on the platform. Each transaction on the platform will be stored in a database, where one can see the time of transaction and other necessary data (time of transaction completion, sender address, receiver address). One of the platform features is that all the transactions are transparent – every participant of the process may easily track implementation of commitments of their partners and colleagues. That means that payments will become the easiest process, completed on our platform.
